INTRO

Whenever there is a terrorist attack, a massacre, or a school shooting as recently in Newtown, USA, the interests of power sprout up like weeds in every media the following day. Seeing as since 9/11 it is clear that terror attacks can also be used as "stirrups" for intentional restructuring, it is an imperative element of modern education to take a closer look at the opinions and interests of powers that show up after an attack. In fact, these right away reveal the puppeteers – if indeed it stems from a planned attack that serves their purpose. After the child murders in Newtown, talk about tightening gun laws or even a gun ban was everywhere. Do criminals care about that? So who is beefing up against millions of private gun owners in the USA? Primarily New York's Mayor Michael Bloomberg (!) and Senator Dianne Feinstein (!). Should not mayors and senators know that they are only cutting off the upright citizens' possibility for self-defense? Are they possibly even connected to the puppeteers that are currently taking every nation's defense possibilities world-wide? Who knows more about this?

"Educational programs" for violence

ah. Another school shooting. Again the media report about it with apparent naive shock. But the many studies showing causes and correlations of violence are further ignored and played down. "Yet they all point in the same direction: Watching brutality on a screen means 'learning by example', acting out violence, in computer games, means 'learning by doing'."

At the start of the 90's violence had a main role in 50% of all TV programs; now in already 80%. Conflict-free solutions to problems are only shown in 4% of all cases. The consequences for the human brain are comparable to walking on a path. If the wrong footprints have once marked the path, it is difficult to get rid of them again. This is why everyone who profits from the business with media violence should be held responsible along with those doing the shooting.

Internet censorship: This is how it's done!

sj. On Dec 18, 2012 at 8 a.m., German radio station DRS 1, apparently concerned, spoke of a drastic rise in gambling addiction. It is supposed to have risen by 100%, states an ominous telephone help line. Ominous only because it failed to offer any reference number of callers seeking help. As we learned in school, when something doubles by 100%, then two people are already 100% more than one person. This is suspicious and we will quickly see where this is heading: After several casino owners made statements concerning banning gambling addicts – especially the bankrupt ones! – from their facilities, the issue of internet gambling was quickly brought up. This is supposedly the actual danger, because it theoretically is the cause of all gambling addiction and completely uncontrollable. So that is how it is done: First you show how important it is to control all gambling addicts. Then you uncover how the addicts banned from casinos flee to the mother of all addictive games – into the all too free internet. But how did they find that out? Do not such empty statements mount the logic of a needed internet censorship in our heads? And what is wrong with that, you might ask? What is wrong is that these supposed friends of humanity are looking to take complete control over everyone and everything with internet censorship instead of going for one ban on addictive games, for instance. Whoever does something forbidden is punished, period – without any censorship! What again remains untouched: the hefty earnings of the casinos. This is how you can tell that it at best has to do with widening areas of power, but never with the good of mankind.

Lecture for the media

jb. Louis Farrakhan, leader of the religious community Nation of Islam (they respect both the Koran and the Bible as true) during an off-the-air break really gave the media men present at an American radio station a lecture they will remember: He labeled them as slaves of the system and accused them of not having guts enough to tell the truth, for fear of losing their jobs. He pilloried the interrelation between the media and banks and appealed to the courage of those present, to fight for the truth. Now the thought keeps following me: Why is Farrakhan suddenly being labeled anti-Semitic because of these statements? Whoever is not mainstream, "politically correct" but criticizes the system is likewise often very quickly stamped and written off with the same title: anti-Semitic. Who can help me here? Is it false when I follow my inner im-pulse and ask: "What inter-esting things do all the other "anti-Semitics" have to say"? I thought Farrakhan's accusa-tions were really interesting.

USA- chemical warfare

hk. After 50 years the people of Vietnam are still suffering from the terrible, highly poisonous pesticide Agent Orange which the US Air Force sprayed over humans and forests during the Vietnam war years. This deadly poisonous chemical produced by Dow Chemical and Monsanto is still traceable in the soil and water. The natural ecosystem can only very slowly break it down. Hundreds of thousands of children, adults and US soldiers were poisoned, and even today children are born with severest deformities. The poisoned US soldiers were compensated after a classaction lawsuit; the Vietnamese victims have until this day not received a penny in compensation. One of those responsible for this is Henry Kissinger, US

The CIA and its machination me. The American Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) is a very secret organization that demands complete secrecy and loyalty from their agents. It was the withdrawal of several agents that first made details of their procedures known. Verne Lyon for instance, was recruited in 1965 and aimed at professors in order to bring Vietnam propaganda to students. After that, he was sent to Cuba, where he was to agitate the people against their own government with acts of sabotage. Phil Agee had the mission to stop the Cuban revolution in Ecuador. Ralph McGee was sent to Vietnam with a death squad and Phil Roettinger was ordered to fell the Guatemalan government. He armed government enemies and trained them. The bottom line of all of these statements by ex-agents is: The CIA supports the exploitation of other nations by America and spares no means!

[Note by editor: The CIA and other dubious intelligence agencies are in operation despite all crimes that have been made known. Considering this background information, you have to examine the mainstream depiction of the "Arab Spring" and numerous "revolutions" from this perspective and bring light into these and similar situations.]

Obama's threats against Syria

mab. On December 5, 2012, the American aircraft carrier USS Eisenhower moved in along the Syrian coast. Along on board were 8 bombing fleets and about 8000 American soldiers. This multiplies indications that the USA is preparing for a ground operation. The USA base the legitimation for this operation on the argument that they have indications of Syria planning the use of chemical weapons. These indications originate from the famous-notorious intelligence agencies which have, by spreading large amounts of false information, shown in the past that they are not trustworthy. When you hear Barack Obama's threat, you just shudder: "I tell Assad and his militaries loud and clear: Whoever commits the tragic mistake of using such weapons (meant are chemical weapons) will be held responsible. It will have consequences." This statement comes from a man who uses weapons with enriched uranium without hesitation letting countless people suffer and crippled babies be born!

The time has come for Obama and his warmongers to be held responsible for the war crimes they have committed.

the research laboratory for future wars, has not caused any cries of outrage in our media!?

Closing Point ●
"Unhappy and complaining at home or grumbling in your clique - anybody can do that! Instead of this, make a habit of writing a concise, powerful V&C article with serious sources, using known information about politicians, media, science etc. Everyone who learned to write in school and knows a bit about current events can and should do this. The rest is just practice."
