INTRO

A small gang of grasshoppers is terrorizing a colony of ants, forcing them to provide them regularly with food. Due to a mishap, a whole load of food falls into the river and one single ant is rebellious towards the grasshoppers. They threaten to come back and require a double load of food. Their boss "Hopper" makes it clear to his gang, why they absolutely have to go back, even if they do not depend on that food: "These tiny little ants are superior in numbers and if they should ever be aware of that fact we can forget about our convenient living standard. It is not about food but about keeping them under our thumb." The grasshoppers come back. But that one certain ant determinedly holds against them: "You are wrong Hopper! [...] We are not servants of you grasshoppers! We are much stronger than you want to make us believe and you know that, don't you?" The other ants finally start to understand, approach this situation unanimously and wipe out their tormentors! When will we finally understand?

Kosovo-war: It started with a lie...

dd. Under the pretext of avoiding a humanitarian disaster, on March 24, 1999, the NATO started one of the heaviest aerial warfare operations against the former Yugoslavia. Before that, the "Liberation Army of Kosovo" (UÇK) and the forces of order in Yugoslavia through the OSZE* were close to finding a political solution. The WDR report "It started with a lie – Germany's way into the Kosovo war", broadcast in 2001, shows how the people of the participating NATO-countries were deceived and how facts were falsified and made up:

- Before the NATO-bombs there was no humanitarian disaster but afterwards there were thousands of dead civilians.
 - The story of the concentration camp in Pristina was a lie.
 - Scharping's assertion of a "massacre of the civilian population" in reality was a shootout between Serbian policemen and soldiers of the UÇK.
 - The so called "Horseshoe Plan" was a fake plan of the German ministers Fischer and Scharping.
- Conclusion: The largest United States Army military base outside the USA is located in Kosovo – established after the invasion of the NATO-troops in 1999.

*Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSZE)

 The "Horseshoe Plan" was a supposed plan of the Serbian-Yugoslavian government which led to the systematic expulsion of the Kosovo-Albanians.

Is Russia the ultimate goal of the western- controlled revolution?

Before the Crimean crisis, Gerhard Wisnewski* responded to the question posed by Iranian radio as to "whether or not the aim of the western-controlled revolution also included Russia": "Yes. The entire geopolitical development is mainly eastward, whether you take North Africa, from Tunisia to Syria, or Europe, where the European Union gathers up all of the countries to the east and Ukraine is supposed to be the next bite. Of course their focus is on Russia, Putin knows this. [...] Here we have to see if Russia inevitably will have to take a more decisive and determined stand. This depends on how hard Russia is pressed into the wall. If an animal is forcefully driven into a corner it will eventually have to defend itself."

*Wisnewski was employed as a journalist by various major newspapers before he became known as a free journalist, author, and filmmaker, including the television feature film "The RAF-Phantom" amongst others.

De-escalation actions by the NATO?

we. The NATO summit with 28 foreign ministers took place on April 1, 2014 in Brussels. The goal communicated to the outside world was: "De-escalation of the Crimean conflict". However reality portrays a different picture: Military and civil cooperation with Russia has been suspended until further notice. The aerial surveillance on the eastern borders will be extended with additional equipment and military cooperation with Ukraine will be increased. By October 2014 eight maneuvers, including all NATO member states, are going to take place. The east partner nations, namely Poland, Romania, Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia, will receive additional military support. A prompt increase of troops in Romania was announced by the Ukrainian patriarch warns of the EU dictatorship

In his letter from March 14, 2014, the Byzantine Catholic patriarch warned Ukrainian bishops that EU resolutions would become legally binding if Ukraine joined the EU: Homosexual marriages would be given the same rights as traditional families. A third gender, including the two categories transgender* and intersex, has been legally recognized since February 4, 2014. Even if member states do not legalize these perverted forms, any rejection of the resolutions is considered as discrimination and will therefore be prosecuted.

* Transgender describes the deviation from social gender roles or gender characteristics of the assigned sex at birth.

 In the medical world, intersex describes people who cannot be defined as male or female due to their sexual organs and hormones.

US congressman denounces anti-Putin propaganda

During a session of the United States Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, Congressman Alan Grayson contradicted the widespread belief that the annexation of Crimea into Russia has violated the international law: “Now in fact the Russians did assist, they assisted by disarming the local army and navy [...]. They did that so that the Ukrainian army and navy could not interfere in the referendum that was held. [...] Why are we speaking about stealing Crimea, [...] or a bully bear Putin or a Cold War II?” Grayson continued. [...] “We should be pleased to see when a virtually bloodless transfer of power establishes self-determination for a two million people somewhere in the world. [...] The basic principle here is self-determination,” Grayson said. “That’s what’s happened in the Crimea and it’s not for us to determine otherwise.”

Media lie:

So what’s the Germans’ state of mind in reality?!

dec. On March 28, 2014 the Swiss popular daily “20 Minuten” wrote: “Germans dismantle their idol”. This was referring to the former German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt, who had described the procedure of the Russian president Putin on the Crimean Peninsula as “absolutely understandable”* and called the sanctions initiated by the EU and the USA “nonsense”. You can read in the “20 Minuten” that the German people “are extremely critical” of him. Referring to two articles from the online newspapers “Bild.de” and “Spiegel.de” the paper “20 Minuten” supposes that these reports represent the mindset of all Germans. However, more than 1.000 comments on the article prove that almost 99% of all Germans share the same opinion as Helmut Schmidt.

Manipulation of opinion: Radio SRF1 hides facts hc. During the Suisse debate on whether or not mammograms are necessary for all women older than 50, two experts got a chance to speak on Radio SRF1* on February 3, 2014: According to the “Swiss Medical Board” regular screening causes more harm than good. In contrast Thomas Cerny, chairman of Oncosuisse, postulates that it is necessary to introduce screenings in Switzerland nationwide. But Radio SRF1 conceals important background information: Whereas “Swiss Medical Board” is a committee of specialists, which is independent from administration, service providers, and industrial interests; Oncosuisse is sponsored by pharmaceutical companies producing and selling chemotherapeutic drugs. Each cancer patient increases their profit.

Now make up your mind: Which one can you trust?

For whose interests does the “new” Ukrainian parliament work?

uw. Whoever still believes the Ukrainian people had a revolution is taught better by current news. In their second round on March 27, 2014, the “new” Ukrainian parliament decided to decrease the payments for social welfare and pensions, to be followed by massive tax increases and gas prices raised by 50%. The reason is said to be that the International Monetary Fund (IMF) will allow credit under these conditions. Is this in the interest of the Ukrainian people?! On the Crimean peninsula, which joined Russia through referendum, pensions have been increased.

Closing Point •

What about the “rebellious” little ant?

We are not “servants” of the media and politicians, who want to keep us under their control.

We are greater in number and stronger and they know this very well.

Therefore, every newly won courier of the V&C makes us become a chain which can’t be overcome.
